

Figure S8. List of cell types pooled together in order to create a matching consensus cell type gene expression matrix used as a basis for the human to pig single cell type comparison. The consensus datasets were computed by taking the mean expression of every gene in a cell type assigned to matching consensus cell types. Only ortholog genes were included.